Re: Locum Consultant Haematology Position

Position To cover Maternity Leave in a 600-bed tertiary referral centre

Hospital St. Vincent's University Hospital, Dublin.

---

St. Vincent's University Hospital is a 600-bed tertiary referral hospital. The post being advertised is a locum position for maternity leave from mid September 2009 for a period of at least nine months and possible extension to a twelve-month period. The post is a general haematology consultant post with ideally a subspecialty interest in thrombosis and haemostasis and a commitment to a formal high-risk haematology obstetric clinic in the National Maternity Hospital in Dublin.
