

Specialist Haematologist
Combined Clinical/Laboratory
Waikato District Health Board, Hamilton, New Zealand
Position No. 50901-40167

The Haematology Department at the Waikato District Health Board requires a Haematologist to join our team. We can offer you a competitive remuneration package including generous professional and CME allowances and relocation expenses.

Our organisation funds and provides health services to 320,000 people living in the Waikato district of the central North Island of New Zealand. In addition, our main hospital, Waikato Hospital provides specialty tertiary services to the Midland region's population of approximately 800,000 people.

You will work as an integral member of the haematology department team along side 3 other haematologists who bring a broad range of skills and specialities to the team. Enquiries from general / malignant haematologists as well as coagulation subspecialists therefore are welcomed.

The department is responsible for providing cancer services to the entire Midland region population. This is done through the provision of acute leukaemia, lymphoma and autologous transplantation services. We also offer a dedicated inpatient unit, with excellent nursing and support staff.

Our department is supported by excellent laboratory services include flow cytometry and cytogenetics, run by a team who created and administer the New Zealand Haematology QA program. Community-based diagnostic laboratories and haematologists also provide further support; as do the New Zealand Blood Service via their large on-site facility and Transfusion Medicine Specialist.

Our department is affiliated with the Auckland University Medical School and has registrar posts as well as being accredited for registrar training with the RCPA and RACP.

Potential position holders must hold, or be eligible for Vocational Registration with the New Zealand Medical Council for clinical and/or laboratory Haematology (FRACP & FRCPA or equivalent e.g. MRCP & MRCPath).

Our location in New Zealand also gives you access to the quality lifestyle that you have been looking for, including affordable cost of living and housing, easy travel and excellent schooling. You will also have the best wonders and extremes of New Zealand right on your doorstep, including lush forests, amazing wildlife, rolling hills, pristine beaches, mountain peaks and bubbling mud.

If you meet registration requirements and are interested in this career and lifestyle opportunity enquire formally or informally by contacting us now.
