

Specialist Haematologist

Dunedin Hospital, Otago, New Zealand
Oncology and Haematology

We are accepting applications to join our Oncology and Haematology team for a one year fixed term position of between 0.8-1.0 FTE as a Specialist Haematologist. This position is to cover maternity leave until July 2011. Specialists who would be available for shorter periods are also encouraged to apply.

Our current staff of 4 Medical Oncologists, 3 Radiation Oncologists and 3 Haematologists provides a comprehensive Haematology service to 300,000 people in the Otago and Southland regions.

In this role you will have the variety of an integrated laboratory component and we can also accommodate a specialist interest. Enquiries from general / malignant Haematologists as well as coagulation sub-specialists therefore are welcomed. As a teaching hospital we enjoy a close relationship with the medical school of Otago University and there are opportunities for teaching and research.

You must have or be eligible to obtain vocational registration with the Medical Council of New Zealand www.mcnz.org.nz

Dunedin is a small city with a big town feel and well-known for its Southern hospitality. If you're considering a move down South please feel free to contact us.

Please attach an updated CV and cover letter and apply online at the following link:

http://www.healthdownsouth.co.nz/index.php?pageLoad=86&jobCategory=Specialists/Consultants&job_id=2249
or contact Nigel Copson, Recruitment Advisor, phone 03 470 9605 or email nigel.copson@osdhbs.govt.nz