Prestigious Private Practice Opportunity Gold Coast, Queensland

An opportunity exists for a single practitioner or a group of physicians to establish a practice with Haematology and Oncology Clinics of Australasia (HOCA) – “the leader in cancer care.” HOCA operates a successful group of private practice clinics in Southeast Queensland, and each clinic incorporates a private cancer treatment centre and is collocated with Radiation Oncology, Pathology and Radiology Services forming part of a comprehensive cancer treatment centre.

The HOCA model of care provides the opportunity for you to achieve optimal outcomes in one of Australia’s most desirable locations:

- Establish your rooms and be part of the HOCA clinic at Southport allowing you immediate access to patients undergoing treatment.
- Practice independently on the Gold Coast with the support and significant professional and collegiate benefits associated with being part of a practice that numbers over 20 leading Oncologists and Haematologists.
- Benefit from the support of an excellent and experienced nursing team.
- Have the confidence of knowing patients are being treated in accordance with your preferences and that you will have direct access to the nursing team you work with at any time when your patients are being treated.

- Utilise a fully electronic practice management system that is accessible from remote locations ensuring optimal practice flexibility.
- Locate your practice in your own rooms in the premier Haematology and Oncology centre on the Gold Coast.
- Benefit from full practice management services that include the following:
  - Full secretarial and reception services.
  - Typing services that will ensure all letters are typed and ready for signature within 24-48 hrs.
  - Full billing and cash collection service.
- Benefit from marketing and practice development services including postal and e-marketing along with the promotion of you and your practice in GP, CME sessions and printing of all practice stationery.

HOCA is guaranteeing an extremely competitive earning potential, net of practice fees, in a fully supported environment for the first two years so you can focus on your patients and building your reputation rather than the administrative burden of practice management.
