

HOTT Fellowship Awards

(Roche, COSA, MOGA, HSNZ)

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS – 2 AWARDS TO BE GRANTED

Roche Oncology & Haematology in conjunction with COSA, MOGA and HSNZ is delighted to announce that two new HOTT Fellowship Awards of $50,000AUD each will be available in the first quarter of 2010.

Each award is designed to fund, or part-fund a one year position, and is intended to assist in the conduct of high quality clinical or translational research, or other project initiatives which will be of benefit to the clinical oncology or haematology community within Australia.

In addition to the $50,000 awards, support in-kind may also be available from Roche as required and agreed.

One award will be offered to an individual working in the field of medical oncology, the other will be offered to an individual working in the field of malignant haematology.

Eligibility:

- The awards will be offered to fund projects to be undertaken over a one year period. Research or project outcomes should be available at the end of this one year period.
- The awards will be available to individuals undertaking advanced training in medical oncology or haematology, or to more senior oncologists or haematologists with limited research experience.
- The research topic may be in any aspect of medical oncology or malignant haematology. Non-research projects must be of wide ranging benefit to the oncology or haematology community of Australia.
- Applicants will be members of either COSA or HSNZ.
- The research or projects must be conducted within Australia.

Applications:

- The closing date for applications is 22 May 2009
- All applicants must submit
 - the HOTT Fellowship Application Form available online at www.cosa.org.au, along with the requested attachments specified on the Form.
 - a copy of the applicant's CV, up to 6 pages in length.
 - a letter of support from the applicant's Department Head or Institutional Head, specifying the mentoring, support and facilities that will be available from the Institution.
- All applications will be assessed by a panel of experts including representatives of COSA, MOGA and HSNZ.
- The successful candidates will be notified within six weeks of the closing date and must be available to attend the COSA or HSNZ Annual Scientific Meeting to receive their award.
